

Purity is a treasure to be guarded!

I will guard my ears.

I will keep my life clean.

No dirt in my life!

I will make wise choices.

I will guard my eyes.

Fill the drawing up with sentences and words that show how you are committed to guarding your purity. You will have to write using really tiny, teeny letters. It might be fun to try different colored pens, markers or pencils. You can also write words around the shape of the person in the picture. Once you have the drawing filled up, save it to paste into your lapbook or notebook.

What did I have to do to keep my candle lit?

Is sheltering my candle a picture of how I need to shelter and guard my life from things that can "extinguish" my purity?

YES

NO

Light a candle. Now have someone come along and blow some air near your candle. You will have to shelter it with your hand to keep it lit.
